Our vision is to become the Tohono O’odham Nation’s center for higher education, and to enhance the Nation’s participation in the local, state, national, and global communities.

As an accredited and land-grant institution, TOCC’s mission is to enhance the unique Tohono O’odham Himdag by strengthening individuals, families, and communities through holistic, quality higher education services. These services will include research opportunities and programs that address academic, life, and development skills.

TOCC’s Strategic Plan, 2021-2026
1. Strengthen the Himdag: Prioritize and practice O’odham culture, language, and lifeways.
2. Enhance Access, Reach and Community: Serve the Tohono O’odham Nation and beyond while creating a vibrant local academic community.
3. Establish Curricular Pathways: Build on TOCC’s strengths to address community needs and to support students’ academic and career interests.
4. Model Sustainability: Adapt to and address the challenges posed by the changing environment.
5. Foster Excellence: Engage students in learning experiences that challenge them to change themselves and the world.

T-Ṣo:son – Our Core

T-Wohocudadag – Our Beliefs
We at Tohono O’odham Kekel Ha-Maṣcamakud believe that T-Wohocudadag provides balance, strengthens us and helps us respect ourselves, other people and cultures.

Things in our lives (e.g. nature, people, the environment, animals) keep us in balance. Everything is here for a reason, to learn from, to care for and to respect.

T-Apedag – Our Wellbeing
We at Tohono O’odham Kekel Ha-Maṣcamakud believe that T-Apedag is inclusive of what is healthy and good for us (physically, spiritually, emotionally and mentally), and for the things around us.

How we interact with the world and our relationships influences our health. Well-being is how you give, how others give to you, and about taking care of oneself and others – mentally, spiritually, emotionally and physically. Self reflection provides understanding of one’s place in the world, and one’s effect on others and vice versa.

T-Pi:k Elida – Our Deepest Respect
We at Tohono O’odham Kekel Ha-Maṣcamakud believe that T-Pi:k Elida is a deep sense of respect for the land, your surroundings, the people, things upon the land, and also for your own self and your life.

This includes valuing the people and the culture.

I-We:mta – Working Together
We at Tohono O’odham Kekel Ha-Maṣcamakud believe that I-We:mta is crucial for the success of the college.

In years past, when someone shot a deer they shared it with the people. This was also true when planting and harvesting the fields where everyone helped one another. Providing food was not just for oneself, it included the concept of sharing, taking care of others, and giving back to the community. Tohono O’odham provided help when help was needed, particularly in times of loss and death.

A Global Vaccine Poem by Ofelia Zepeda

Dear Vaccine
Kulani, ša: ’ap a’i masma

‘Ia ’att m-nam k m-nowi bebhe.
We meet you and shake your hand in greeting.
It has been some time since we shook anyone’s hand.
S-ap ’ac t-ta:tc ia m-ñei.
We are happy to see you.
Hehihu amje ’ac ’la m-ñenđa.
We have been waiting for your arrival for some time.
Your journey is done you will now rest in our bodies.
Like other healers before you you will be there when we need you.
The tale of your journey will be held in our collective stories.
We will retell it next year when we acknowledge the death anniversaries of our relatives and friends and all those who tried to fight the enemy alone.
We will tell of the battles you fought on your journey
The battles against non-believers and conspiracy theorists.
You will be known as a hero, a slayer of enemies.
And like so many others before you you will be known by many names.

Board Chair Ofelia Zepeda wrote this poem for the Global Vaccine Poem project. For information on the project, see https://www.wksu.org/the-poetry-of-the-vaccine.
Greetings and welcome!

Yes, we are in the midst of a pandemic, but Tohono O’odham Community College is open and moving forward. The S-cuk Du’ag (Black Mountain), Wišag Koš (Hawk’s Nest), S-ki:kig (Many Houses), and San Carlos Apache campuses are open. If you are fully vaccinated, stop by S-cuk Du’ag Maşcamakud or one of the other campuses and take a tour. We look forward to seeing you.

Since the onset of the pandemic in 2020, TOCC has added 17,000 square feet of new construction, relocated the College’s administration from Komckuḍ ’E-Wa:’osidk Maşcamakud in Sells, to S-cuk Du’ag, and our course delivery mode was transformed from over 95 percent face-to-face to nearly 100 percent online.

The coronavirus pandemic has tested students, staff, faculty, and stakeholders alike. For some, outcomes have been tragic. Despite it all, students continue to pursue their education in the knowledge that it will help them and their communities in the future. Student numbers increased from 470 at the onset of the pandemic to over 800 now, as students take advantage of our tuition-free experience for Native Americans and avail themselves of the flexibility that online course delivery provides.

Our connections with students now are limited primarily to those that occur through online classes, though we have had some smaller face-to-face opportunities for interaction including a recent O’odham language transcription workshop. Plans are to continue to provide a strong online presence and to reestablish an in-person community of students at S-cuk Du’ag Maşcamakud with face-to-face course delivery increasing when practicable.

This Annual Report highlights some of the happenings during the 2020-2021 Academic Year. I hope you take a few minutes to review it. In case you missed it, you can view last year’s report in video format at tocc.edu/publications/.

With respect,

Paul Robertson, Ph.D.
President

Construction Update: Ma:cidag Gewkdag Ki: Opens

Macidag Gewkdag Ki: means “Empowering Your Knowledge.” Macidag Gewkdag Ki: is where students will pursue the Arts and Sciences, thus growing their knowledge. Also, the administrators housed in the new building will empower their knowledge of operations as they lead the College.

The 12,000-square-foot building Ma:cidag Gewkdag Ki:, also called the Arts & Sciences Building, anchors S-cuk Du’ag Maṣcamakud. The facility was constructed by ESB+Design Build. It was funded by the College’s Title III grant from the U.S. Department of Education. Staff and faculty moved into the building during November-December 2021 as the Komckuḍ ’E-Wa:’osidk Campus in Sells, Arizona closed. Photo of students by Adjunct Instructor Wendi Cline.

Profiles: Student of the Year and First Generation Scholar

Jessica Garcia was the College’s 2021 Student of the Year. While in high school, Jessica attended the Future Health Leaders program at TOCC for three summers. She enjoyed living in the E-Maścamdam Kikí (the dorms) as a first-year student while studying for an Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts. She is in the ASJ photo above. Ms. Garcia is a member of Hickiwan District.

Shaylene Celaya was the College’s 2021 Coca-Cola First Generation Scholar. She graduated in 2021 with an Associate of Arts in Social Work. Shaylene is studying online for a bachelor’s in Social Work at the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minnesota. She is a fluent O’odham speaker and a lifelong learner who talks with others about going to college. Ms. Celaya is a member of Gu Vo District.

Financials, Fiscal 2021

Tohono O’odham Community College ended 2021 strong, with net assets of $22 million and total revenues of $14.7 million. The income statement shows that revenue streams are diversifying. Over time, the Legislative contribution has decreased in proportion: it was 80 percent of revenues in 2003 but was only 33 percent of revenues this year. Yet the Legislative contribution remains a critical source of funding that has allowed the College to grow and to meet ongoing challenges. The Legislative contribution is a testament to how highly the Tohono O’odham Nation values education.

Joyce Miguel, Farm Manager/Extension Agent Assistant, worked at Wiṣag Koṣ Campus in person throughout the pandemic along with the Farm Manager/Extension Agent Clifford Pablo and Ag Interns. Here she poses in front of S-wepēgí pilkañ (Sonoran wheat), which has just been uncovered to check on the seedlings that were planted within the pilkañ. Pre-College/GED Program Continues Through Pandemic

Core Values Emphasized
The Pre-College Program demonstrated I-We:mta – Working Together and other Core Values by reaching out to students where they were throughout 2020-2021. The program offered instruction via Zoom, providing 18 Chromebooks to students. In 2020-2021, 29 students enrolled in GED courses.

The College also launched the College Credit Pathway for High School Equivalency (CCP for HSE). Students take 25 credits of college courses and pass the Arizona Civics Test.

In fall 2021, the Pre-College Program resumed a face-to-face option, continuing online classes and independent study.

The Pre-College/GED Program is funded by TOCC and by a grant from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation.

Four recent GED and CCP graduates were honored in the 2020 annual report; two are recognized here; and more will appear in the 2022 report.

Self-Identified Membership

Our Application for Admission asks students to indicate their district membership and membership in the Tohono O’odham Nation or other Native sovereign nations. The table to the left shows the students’ self-identified membership over the past three years. The data set was provided by TOCC’s Research Assistant in January 2022.
