AAS in Management and Supervision

The Management and Supervision Associate of Applied Science degree prepares the student for front line supervision and entry level management. Different approaches and techniques to management and supervision will be examined and how they should be applied. This includes leadership, organization, planning and other management practices.

Program Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate appropriate and effective communication skills with coworkers through homework, examination, reflection and classroom interaction.
2. Case studies will be examined, analyzed and discussed to help the students better understand and resolve different situations that could arise in the workplace.
3. Demonstrate supervisory skills and knowledge through interactions with the instructor, classmates, examination and classroom discussions
4. Demonstrate an understanding of basic business organization and behavior through discussion, examination, reflection and classroom interaction.
5. Demonstrate motivational skills in the workplace through discussion, examination and classroom interactions
6. Demonstrate the necessity for ethical behavior as a supervisor.
